Carly Smoty The Coning

An Englishman in an important official position in Russia told me he estimated the correst expenditure on the war at ten millone storing a month. Other authorities and I think they are within the mark, say 2500,000 a day. How long oan the Gov. ernment bear this terrible drain !

The first shot was fired on February &

so that we have just had six mouths of the campaign. Minety millions sterling is probably a moderate estimate of the cost of calling out, arming, transporting, and maintaining 500,000 men in the field for this period. Now the Government had, to start with, an available Budgetary balance of £28,000,000. It has effected sconomiss, chiefly by the stoppege of railway and other public works, amounting to £14,000,000. It has received, say, £5,000,000 in voluntery subscriptions. Then there is the oft canvased gold reserve, the object of which is to guarantee the regular anchange of bank-paper against metal, and to prevent the old abuse of forced leaves of paper money. This year. with an increase of paper imped, there has been a great fall in the metal covering held-1376 | by the State bank | but it is cotimated that £41,000,000 could be obtained by taking all the balance of the State bank except the minimum obvering. Finally, there is the amount of the recent French loan. £32,000,000. Here, then, was an available TIWO LIFEBOA'TS of UHINA PINE, total of £120,000,000, heaving in hand-if our estimate of expenditure be correct-230,600,000, or two months' further supplies. But there is no prospect of peson careful observers expect hostilities to continue till next year at least. In what direction will the Government turn for help in the appreaching origin? We know what we have lately done under stress of war. What

If you want a speaking summary of the state of a nation turn to lie Budget. I have culled out of the latest issued official Budget statements a few facts which will help us in getting an idea of the relation of the Government's resources to the demand which the war is making upon them. For ease of reading, I give only round figures. counting the rouble as worth 2a.

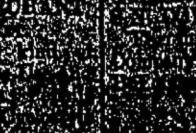

The codinary receipts amount to about

£190,000,000, of which a good deal more than a balf comes from what I should call State trading operations and State properties; only £13,000,000 from direct taxation (chiefly bearing on industry and commerce); 222.005.000 from fathrest taxation (more then hell of this from Daylooner and 216,000,000 from stamp in a Mailer lesses There is no general income the for Russia. We may note incidentally that posts and telegraphs only confribute 26, 0),000, and that while Russis as I have already shown, pays all the penalties of an pitra-protectionist regime, she gets only £22,000,000 of Contours revenue, mainly, of course, because her people are too poor to pay the extra cost of the machinery and other goods which they would be only too glad to import. But the starte ling fact is that, of the whole Budget receipte, one-half is contributed by the sale of intuitibating liquof (250,003,0 0)-48tate monopoly which is gradually being extend-CARDS and a Varied Assortment of LMAS | ed over the whole Empire - and by the State rallways (£40,000,000), His Imperial 1904 Majesty Nicholas IL is, among other not very admirable things, the higgest publican in the world. The published Budgets are pro-bably the grossest and most gigantic pieces of trickery in the whole field of international finance. For ten years past, aurpluses, the notorious 'free balances, have been manufactured simply to give the Finance Ministeran uncontrolled reserve for times of crisis. So far as possible, this has been allowed for in the above calculation, The Tear could himself find several millions out of his private purse without feeling the loss. PROTECTION AND LABOUR.

ICA SH

The average trade unionist, according to Traction and Transmission, argues on the assumption that Government can do anything, and that he is the Government. He feels that there exists a good deal of unnecessary hardship sustained by certain classes, and he dimly recognises that it is comehow due to a lack of organisation and direction, which cannot be denied. For the world is certainly not overcrowded. There is living accommodation of sorts for all of us, even for the invalid and unfit. But it does not follow that any man may find, or should be entitled to, a full day's board and a comfortable night's rest wherever he may choose to betake himself ; yet this appears to be a theory stoutly. maintained by labour orators. Should there be in any large town, as commonly happens, some proportion of able-bodied unemployed, the Socialist remedy is to make work for them then and there; the hard economic utilitarian remedy is to leave them to shift for themsolves, with a mere pauper's pittance, until they gradually drift towards another market for their labour, or until the local market revives. Neither theory can be said to connote efficiency in the true sense; and the world serms to be coming to the conviction that there is a middle way, which is for the State or the Municipality to give an occasional shake-up to the stagnant population, wherever stagnation tends to social disease and dis-

THE JOYFULNESS OF FOLLY.

What a pleasant thing is folly ! Only those who know very little, or (better still) nothing at sincerely be leves that he knows everything, a wise man is by constant proofs reminded that wise man is by constant proofs reminded that he knows very little. But stay! There is something wrong here. This philosophy won't do. Is ignorance, after all, really he ppiness? True, a very old proverb assures us that "this foily to be wise," but, like most proverbe, we suspect that this one must not be taken too literally. A certain when young buried a hoard of gold in tain miser when young buried a hoard of gold in a secret place, intending to dig it up for use when he grew old; but his miserly spirit prevented him from ever believing that he was suificently old to need it, though he lived to a great age. As a matter of fact, the miser was observed burying his gold by a man who dug it up and made off with it the very next day; but the miser never knew this. Here, now, was a case of ignorance being bliss. Het for every once that "ignorance is bliss" it pells ruinous diester a thousand times. In piping times of peace and prosperity the folish jog along joyfully; but warfare, whether military or commercial, sorts into the two camps the foolish and the Bickness does the same thing with even greater exactitude. Most of no have been sick in the course of our lives, and all of us must be. But unfortunately, not all of us have the good fortune to be told-as Mr David Brown, of 29, Albany Street, East London, Cape Colony, was what is he t to do at such a time.

Said Mr Brown on 28rd May, 1904; "For the last six years I have suffered from kidney. trouble. It appeared first when I was living at Los Angeles, California, U.S A. During five of these years I was attended by several doctors, but never benefited much for all their treatment. But better things were in store for me when ! But better image ware in store for me when the left Los Angeles to take up a position in East London, S.A. While staying at a boarding house here a discuss on took place among the boarders on the subject of different additionals and the less means of curing them? One of a the boards a recommended me to try Constite Syurp. It is a sure remedy

DEPARTURES.

The following table is a chronologically arranged list of mail steamer sailings to Europe, America, Canada, and Australia. Coast ports, Manila, and Japan are not given, for steamers are constantly sailing for those ports. All the American steamers call at Japan, and the majority of the Australian boats call at Manila, and, in addition to those vessels, special steamers run there. Ka The departure of every steamer is subject to alteration. The P. & O. mails usually reach London in about 28 days, and the French and German in about 28 or 30 days.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Yesterday we published of corrugated iron belongs to Messis a Reuter telegram announcing that a Royal Commission had been appointed to deal with the church dispute in Scotland, and now we read that a bill has already been drafted to save what can be saved for the United Free Church from the aweeping effect of the judgment of the House of Lords. The position is simply intolerable, but of course that matters nothing to the judicial mind. They have but to declare the law, and questions of expediency or even of common sense do not come be fore them. The moral seems to be that free churches are even less free than other people, and that funds when once given for the maintenance of a particudoctrine or body of doctrines are absolutely ear-marked for purpose, and the courts will, at any moment, interfere to prevent a corporation exerting the privilege of an individual and changing its mind. Probably Free Churchmen are rather virulent, but no one will gain by and an admirable summing up having the matter threshed out in the the Judge, the jury returned a verdict (44, inch) guns, with sufficient ammunicion, House of Commons. Lieutenant Walter William Blades, of the Army Ordnance Department, applied in London on Nov. 9 for a divorce from his wife, whom he married before she was seventeen, alleging misconduct with cabdriver named Sam Frogham. The charge was denied, and there was a counter accusation of cruelty.

The lieutenant, like his father, a colonel, has risem from the ranks, and he told the Court that he first met his wife in Waterlooplace, when elle was sixteen, and married her in 1888, when she was not quite seven teen. She took to drink, and on on occasion struck him a violent blow, UKW people, perhaps, know that loss of memory-constant inability to remember thing-is a sign of physical illness. But all doctors know this as one of the signs of shuttered nerves. Mrs Winifred Partridge, whose husband is a chemist, living at 53 Cleveland Parkavenue, St. James', Wal hamstow, Loudon. mentions this as one of the first symptoms of the terrible Nervous Breakdown from which she was rescued by Dr Williams' Pink Pills.

Norvous-breakdown means nerve starvation. Dr Williams' Pink Pills feed the Norves by making new blood.
